PAYABLE ON DEATH

Subject to the conditions on all my Service 1st Credit Union accounts and should there be no surviving joint account holder, I designate the following as my beneficiary or beneficiaries under this account established by me, and I revoke all prior designations, if any made by me.

Instructions and Conditions:

- Place the numbers 1, 2, 3, etc. in the space under the word "order" to designate the order in which payment is to be made to the beneficiaries. Where several people are to share payments, place the same number before their names. Payments will be made to any person having the lowest number who survives you. Where several people who are then alive have the lowest number before their names, these people shall receive equal payments. For instance, if you place the number 1 before the name of your spouse and number 2 before the names of each of your children, your spouse will be sole beneficiary if your spouse is alive; otherwise all of the named children who are then alive would get equal shares.
- The Settler has the right to change this designation at any time by filing a new designation with the Credit Union.
